CYCLE EXPERT PLANS PARADE ON SATURDAY

Bicyclists of Santa Ana and Orange can look forward to a big bicycle day next Saturday when Fred St. Onge of the Cycle Trades of America in conjunction with local merchants will stage another bike parade such as Mr. St. Onge conducted here successfully in past years.

During the week Mr. St. Onge will give talks along safety first lines to those who use roller skates, scooters and bicycles as well as jaywalkers. Saturday's demonstration will be in the form of a safety parade with prizes to riders with decorated bicycles. Boy Scouts in uniform. The school with the greatest number of riders will be presented with the Cycle Trades of America Silver Trophy Cup.

"Gold watches, medals, trophy cup and valuable accessories will go to make up the list of prizes which will be announced later. There will be no racing in connection with Saturday's event as it will be strictly an educational affair and is promoted to show the boys and girls of the city the correct way to ride a bicycle on the streets in safety," St. Onge said.

A big feature and a novel event will be introduced here by St. Onge riding on a plank 150 feet long, five inches wide and one-half inch thick. The plank lies on the ground and can be ridden the whole length and can be attempted by the youngest rider in perfectly safety. The rider covering the greatest distance on the plank will receive a gold watch as first prize.

"The parade on Saturday will start at 11 o'clock on Broadway at St. Ann's Inn," St. Onge continued. "All cyclists will be welcome to join in the event. Souvenirs consisting of a book on safety first rules and the correct methods of riding a bicycle will be given to all participants. Remember everything is absolutely free and all you need to get in the parade is to have a bicycle and an inclination to ride it."

SWIMMING MEDALS GIVEN 'Y' BOYS

Three younger lads were made happy on Saturday morning at the Y. M. C. A. when they were awarded their "Beginners" medals as swimmers.

When a boy has learned to swim so that he can get the length of the pool and back again, he is counted as having learned to swim, and is rewarded with the first medal in the series. Edward Farnsworth, Jacob Olinger and Guy Furlington were the boys who made good on Saturday, and received the prize.

Their work was done in the younger boys' class, which meets each Saturday morning at nine o'clock for special work in the gymnasium and pool. Boys from ten to twelve years of age are admitted, the regular membership age being twelve years. A number of small boys have learned to swim, and many have learned to stand erect and to handle themselves well, through the work of this class.

PASTOR DEFENDS PROFESSOR FOR EMPLOYING RELIGIOUS QUESTIONS IN SCHOOLROOM

"The real reason I am taking up this question tonight is because of the young people. Mr. Nealley does not need defending in Santa Ana. His friends are legion. But when ministers and churches attack a teacher like Mr. Nealley—a man so clear in his thinking, so able in his teaching, so Christlike in his spirit—the young people are pretty apt to turn in disgust from churches and preachers."

Preaching to a crowded auditorium last night, at the First Congregational church, the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, minister, closed with the quoted paragraph, his discussion on the subject, "Prof. E. M. Nealley, Christian Gentleman, Brilliant Scholar, Beloved Teacher—Why Have Some of the Santa Ana Ministers Attacked Him?" The sermon subject was developed from the incident of recent date in which the Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist church, filed with the board of education a protest against Professor Nealley's use of religious questions in teaching his class of philosophy at the junior college.

Extracts from Sermon

Excerpts from the Rev. Mr. Schrock's sermon follow:

"Just a week ago this evening, a Chinese gentleman called upon me to ask certain questions, all of them relating to Jesus. One of them was this, 'If Jesus was the Son of God, why did the Jerusalem people put him to death on the cross?' I told him it was largely ignorance. They did not know or believe he was the Son of God. They thought he was a dangerous character. And they knew that if his teaching prevailed Phariseism was doomed. This, evidently, was the view that Jesus himself took of it. As he hung upon the cross he prayed, 'Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.' 'They know not what they do.' That is the thing that is back of almost all persecution."

"Jesus told his followers that they might expect the same sort of treatment that he received. 'Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you and persecute you and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. Rejoice and be exceedingly glad: for so persecuted they the prophets that were before you.' It is the portion of prophets and leaders to suffer misunderstanding and persecution."

No Attack on Preachers

"My purpose tonight is not to attack my fellow ministers. I am sorry, of course, that they feel under obligation to do as they have done. It is a matter of their own conscience and it is not for me to condemn. But I do want to act as interpreter. Many people seem to be under a misapprehension as to Mr. Nealley, personally, and as to what he is trying to do as a teacher of philosophy at our junior college. And they do not know what philosophy is. That is not strange, for the majority of people are not college graduates and have never taken courses in philosophy. So I want to attempt to interpret Mr. Nealley and his work."

"Before I do that, however, I want to correct a misapprehension that is abroad as to the relation of the ministers of the city to this present unpleasantness. The men who are making the complaint are acting purely upon their own initiative. The ministerial association has taken no action whatsoever. There are probably some members of the association who sympathize with those who make the complaint. There are others who are very much grieved over it and feel that a grave injustice is being done. The matter did come before the association. A special meeting was called to consider the matter. As a result, Mr. Nealley was invited to meet with the ministers for conference. He did so and in a fine spirit and clear manner told what he was doing as teacher of philosophy at junior college. The finest spirit prevailed and some of the men apologized to Mr. Nealley for holding such a mistaken view of him and his work. There was a gentleman's agreement that no publicity be given to the matter. All felt that it was closed, so far as the association was concerned. And that is true today. It is only fair to say that the Rev. Mr. Betts, was unable to stay throughout the meeting on account of a funeral."

"The statement is questionable which was given the class in philosophy. Taken alone, it is not surprising that it should be misunderstood and be the cause of alarm. To understand the questionnaire, one must know what is meant by philosophy and how this questionnaire was used."

Pastor Defines Philosophy "What is philosophy? The simplest definition I know is, facing the facts of life and attempting to think them through. Our young people are given courses in philosophy to teach them to think, which is the real purpose of an education. Fannie Bixby Spencer was right when she so ironically said that philosophy is nothing but a diabolical pagan device invented by the ancients to make young people think."

"Philosophy is divided into four great heads. (1) What is the world? The problem of cosmology. (2) What is man and especially how does he know the truth? That is, the problem of anthropology and epistemology. (3) How to live, or the way of life. That is, the great question of ethics. (4) How are we related to the great cosmos? It is the problem of religion. And the greatest of these is religion."

"It is evident that philosophy could not be taught and religion left. And no college or university attempts to leave it out. If you doubt this statement just read the various catalogues of universities, state or privately endowed. "At the time this questionnaire was used, Mr. Nealley's class was just about to take up the history of philosophy of the Alexandrian period. That period begins about 100 B. C. and closes with the death of Augustine, 430 A. D. During this 530 years the dominant philosophical interest was religion. During that period Jesus appeared on earth and the Christian church was established. Mr. Nealley wanted to do two things. First, find out how much his pupils knew about the great questions that would come up in the course; and second, stimulate their thinking and arouse their interest. All

The Well-Dressed Man

By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

THE HALF PORTION BELT

Style now-a-days is about as exclusive as a public drinking cup. Instead of being the prerogative of the few, it has become the possession of the many. Who does not recall the time when fashions in America were flung at us by a coterie of dandies somewhat upon the theory of "lie down; roll over; beg and jump through a hoop". That amiable half-portion of nothing, the man-in-the-street, hadn't a word to say about it. Obeyingly he jumped through the hoop and accepted, uncomplainingly, almost anything that their Imperial Majesties, the Czars of Style, chose, in their wisdom, to decree as "the thing".

The false and snobbish idea that style is only one cloth, color or cut and that you are not in fashion if you don't have on that precise and particular thing served, more than anything else, to retard the development of correct dress in this country. Quite the contrary, style may be any of many different materials and models, all dependent upon what is most becoming to the wearer's figure and type. Style is what you look best in. Style is what makes the most of your advantages and makes the least of your shortcomings. Style for somebody else may not be style for you. Style is something that cannot be put up in air-tight, dust-proof, standardized, sterilized packages. Style is a matter of individual application, not of group generalization. Style is self-expression. Style is important in the choice of one's clothes, but far more important is correct dress, that is, to wear the things that favor the obligation of every occasion, from get-up-to-go-to-bed and from the golf course to the course dinner. Style may easily turn ridiculous; correct dress never is. Fix this distinction firmly in your mind and you cannot go amiss in what you wear and when and where you wear it.

The half-belted greatcoat of the type pictured in the accompanying sketch is the now familiar model known as the "Guard", so named after the celebrated British regiment. It is 3-button, double-breasted and has an inverted pleat in the back and flap pockets. While the general tendency of fashion is toward dropping the belt for more straight-draping models, this style has remained in vogue, because of a certain agreeable military trimness of line.

H. H. Merrick, president of the Greater Los Angeles association; S. C. Hartranft, Fullerton, assemblyman, and Chester Cline, San Jacinto, state senator from this district, will be among the speakers.

Raymer also announced here today that five members of the committee of Los Angeles men appointed to advise with the state board of regents on the selection of a site for the southern branch of the University of California yesterday visited the Fullerton site of 1000 acres. The committee was accompanied on its inspection of the site by C. C. Chapman, J. Charles Thamer, W. J. Carmichael, F. C. Krause, Waldo Kelly, D. B. Macomber, Raymer and other Fullerton men.

The Los Angeles men were guests of the Fullerton group at luncheon. While members of the committee freely expressed themselves in declarations that the site was well situated, they did not commit themselves to support of the tract.

Raymer has had word from regents to the effect that a majority of them will be in Fullerton on February 9 for inspection of the site on the day prior to the scheduled meeting of the board in Los Angeles for selection of a site. Governor Friend W. Richardson, also is expected on that date.

The site where an offering is gaining in popularity and we are very much encouraged," Raymer said. "The site is ideally located and embraces some of the best land in the southland, points that are quickly recognized and commented on by those who visit the tract. Railway and highway advantages also are points that are pointed to the favor of the local site."

NEW FOUNTAIN AT KELLY STORE

A fine new fountain was opened to the public this morning at the C. S. Kelly Drug store after several days work on the installation. The new fountain has a Batchelder tile counter base and a mahogany top. The back bar is of mahogany, tile and cane. Twenty persons may be served at one time. The stools have comfortable leather-upholstered cushions.

The Frigidaire cooling system stands out among the many late fountain improvements to be found in the new equipment. Only one other Santa Ana fountain boasts of Frigidaire which does away with the use of ice. The fountain was furnished by the Western Wholesale Drug company, of Los Angeles, and Jesse & Hill, Orange County distributors, supplied the Frigidaire system. E. Leo Bryant is the proprietor of the Kelly fountain. He has been identified with this line for the past six years in Santa Ana and at the present time conducts the Schoder Drug store fountain also. Five expert fountain men will be utilized in serving the public at the new fountain.

PRES. COOLIDGE DOES NOT LIKE NEW TROUSERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—President Coolidge does not approve of the prevailing styles in young men's trousers.

Three Princeton students called at the White House to invite the president to address the American Whig society at the university, an organization founded by President Madison and led at one time by President Wilson.

After a brief conversation the president glanced at the bell bottoms of the students' trousers and asked why they did not wear suspenders.

When it was explained to him such trousers were the style, Mr. Coolidge announced as his opinion that it would be preferable to arrange to keep them off the ground.

The president told them that his son John had come back from college last fall with similar trousers and that he had made him put on a pair of suspenders.

The number of passengers carried on commercial airplanes in Great Britain during the last five years was just over 50,000. The total distance covered amounted to some 4,000,000 miles.

The hair of rabbits and other animals in Russia is converted into bowls, dishes and plates, which are valued for their strength, durability and lightness. The articles have the appearance of varnished leather.

FUNERAL FOR D. L. MINIKEN TO BE TUESDAY

Funeral services for Don Lawton Miniken, whose death Saturday came at the family residence, 1714 North Broadway, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Smith and Tutill chapel, with the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah, officiating.

Mr. Miniken's death followed a long illness. Until Saturday, January 17, he had been at Gilman's hot springs with the hope of benefiting his health, but such hopes proved fruitless and he was brought back to his home in this city, where, with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Lawton Miniken, he has lived since he was 15 years old.

He was the only son of Harvey L. and Sarah Lawton Miniken, and was born in Batesville, Ark., Nov. 16, 1887. His father died when the son was a youth of 12 years. His mother survives him.

His early education was for the Episcopal ministry, his high school days being followed by entry into the University at Batesville.

The decedent was a prominent Elk, and until his break in health, a year ago, operated as a real estate broker in partnership with Frank L. Burns.

SANTA ANA IS NOT FAVORED WITH RAINS

Santa Ana, with all other sections of the southland, did not fare as well as did the northern section of the state in the passing rain-storm that broke in California late yesterday.

Locally it started drizzling around 6 p. m. yesterday. According to records of Hill and Son, the precipitation here up to 7 a. m., today, was only .06 of an inch, making the total for the season 2.43 inches as against 5.06 for this date last year.

Today the sky was overcast but no moisture was precipitated. In forecasting weather conditions for the next twenty-four hours, the weather man offers no encouragement for showers in this vicinity.

PREDICT MORE RAIN FOR SOUTHLAND

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—Additional rain in and around Los Angeles with little more than clouds in other sections of Southern California is the weather forecast for the next 24 hours, issued by Col. H. B. Hersey, local observer, today.

The prediction follows a rainy Sunday in which nearly every portion of the Southland was treated to welcome showers. The rain started around noon and continued in a gentle drizzle throughout the afternoon and early evening.

The rain is particularly welcome to the citrus growers as it cleaned fruit discolored by smudge smoke and refreshed the soil.

Many mountain points reported snow storms, adding to the water storage for the summer.

Santa Barbara with 50 of an inch, reported the heaviest precipitation in Southern California for the storm. Corona received only a trace.

Rainfall figures to 5 a. m. today were:

ORANGE SHIPMENTS MAKE NEW RECORD

The Tustin Hills Citrus association shipped 456 cars of oranges for the season of 1924, the largest shipment since the association was organized, it was revealed today at the annual meeting of the organization at the packing house in Orange.

Submitting his annual report for operations of the concern, B. A. Crawford, secretary-manager, disclosed that the nearest approach to this volume was in 1919, when the association marketed 445 carloads, 396 boxes being shipped in each car.

With refunds, the gross cash receipts were $594,698.84, with net returns of $467,760.59. The net return to growers at the tree averaged $3.77 per 100 pounds.

The cost of packing was 65 cents per box, 3 cents less than for the previous year, according to the report of the secretary. Refunds to the association totaled $18,575.19, $6,000 more than for 1923.

The 196 members have 1600 acres listed in the association.

PRETTY WOMAN IN SEPTETTE FACING JAIL

A beautiful woman, president of a Los Angeles bank, three sailors and two negroes face jail sentences in the Orange county jail, following arrests made over the week-end, for what police term, "making a speedway out of the Irvine boulevard." No less than fifteen persons were arrested Saturday afternoon and Sunday for speeding along the highway and all arrests were made on that section of the San Diego boulevard.

Charged with speeding 57 miles an hour and with reckless driving, Mrs. S. L. Grosso, San Diego, was summoned to appear before Justice Morrison Wednesday morning. She is the first woman to face a jail sentence since the appointment of Morrison.

According to Motorcycle Officers Stewart and Meyers, who made the arrest, the woman was racing with a car driven by T. E. Shadrick, Huntington Park, who was arrested and who also has a reckless driving charge against him as well as a speeding count.

Two negroes, W. T. House and F. James, members of the naval training station at San Diego, were arrested by Meyers and Stewart Saturday afternoon for racing along the Irvine road. They are charged with speeding from 50 to 45 miles an hour.

W. M. Casey, Los Angeles, was arrested yesterday by Captain Hank Warner for speeding at a rate of 60 miles an hour along Irvine road. Warner also arrested R. Benjamin, Los Angeles, Saturday afternoon. He is charged with speeding at 50 miles an hour.

New F. M. Bank Building Open for Business

The Farmers and Merchants Savings bank opened for business this morning in its new home, northwest corner of Broadway and Fourth street. The bank's money was moved under heavy guard Saturday.

Moving of the seven ton steel safe door Saturday night attracted a large crowd of the curious. Because of its size and weight, it was found necessary to move the door to its new home on rollers.

A reception for patrons and the public will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, it was stated by Alex Brownridge, cashier.

A few minor details remain to be completed in the remodeling work but it is expected that the workmen will complete their labors by tomorrow.

Lash-Rhodes Recital
Charming Event
Of Friday Last

Among the delightful musical events of the past week was the joint recital given on Friday evening by Miss Holly Lash and Ellis
Rhodes at their studio at 17 1/2
East Fourth street, when they presented a number of their talented young pupils.

The studio was filled with interested listeners to the number of seventy-five and the program was a treat from start to finish presented songs, readings and piano logues.

Little Miss Betty Jo Willets, the smallest pupil, gave two very cleverly rendered readings, while Madeline Moase, who is accounted almost professional in her work, presented three piano logues, "Foolish Questions," "Soap," and "Mah Lil Bit Sista."

Charline Lowell, who has great poise and a fine stage presence, gave two readings, "Practicing Time" by E. A. Guest and "A Quiet Afternoon" by Foley, which were greatly enjoyed.

Lula Mildred Congdon presented with pleasing effect "O Sole Mio" and in Neapolitan "If No One Ever Marries Me" being followed by Neva Fay Gerdes, a charming little maiden, who read "In the Morning" by Dunbar and "Somebody Did" by Foley.

Armine Crawford, another talented child in many accomplishments, read two selections most charmingly. Their titles were "How the Whale Got His Throat" (Kipling) and "The Gingham Dog and Calico Cat."

Then came a lad, only five, in the person of Master Freddie Jones, who sang "The Busy Child" and "Vacation Days," and who made the hit of the evening and caused gales of laughter and great applause from the audience.

A most delightful feature of the program was the singing of Ellis Rhodes, who rendered charmingly a group of songs: "A Memory" by Marsh; "Joe Plumb in Reve" (Hue)
"Si Mes Vies" by Hahn and "The Lazy Song," which proved a great treat, as Mr. Rhodes rarely consented to sing.

Following the program, a social period was enjoyed and a dainty collation was served by the young students who were most efficient in their pleasant duties. The prettily arranged plates held dainty sandwiches, pink frosted cakes and a cup of hot chocolate.

The remainder of the delightful evening was passed with dancing.

sary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles friends gathered at their home last Friday evening.

The feature of the merry gathering was a mock wedding, Miss

Miss Mildred Beaudette, while Mrs. Beaudette was the soloist for the occasion and Mrs. Guy Koons presided at the piano.

Mrs. D. E. Kellogg
Honored on 81st
Birthday Date

Mrs. D. E. Kellogg of 119 Orange avenue was the happy recipient on Thursday morning, January 22, of a beautiful bouquet of scarlet carnations from the Bible class of the United Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Kellogg has long been a member. The occasion for this lovely gift being Mrs. Kellogg's eighty-ninth birthday, and it was presented by her class teacher, the Rev. M. M. Tibball, who with Mrs.
Tibball came to extend congratulations to the oldest member of the class.

Many beautiful birthday cards and other gifts were also received by the honoree during the day, while the evening hours brought one of the happiest birthday celebrations she had ever enjoyed.

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. C.
E. Kellogg, 433 South Broadway, the different members of the family assembled to honor mother on her birthday, these being joined by her pastor and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. McPeak and her Bible class teacher and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Tibball, all of whom gathered around the festive board for a six o'clock dinner.

The table was centered by the beautiful birthday cake with its circle of pink candles and the words
"Mother" and "89" written in pink, blue and gold. Golden yellow cardiosticks stood on either end of the table, while the blue place cards were accompanied by dainty boutenners of waxen hyacinths. A bouquet of exquisite yellow roses nodded from the sideboard and pink sweet peas were arranged in blue baskets to brighten the living room. The delicious and bountiful dinner was prepared and served by Mrs. J. E. Kellogg and Mrs. C. E. Kellogg, daughters-in-law of the honoree.

Later, when all had assembled in the living room, short impromptu after-dinner talks were enjoyed.
Sincere tributes of appreciation were accorded Mrs. Kellogg by her pastor, her Sabbath school teacher, and other friends and members of her family present. The organ class of the First M. E. Sabbath school, of which Dr. C. E. Kellogg is teacher, sent a beautiful greeting, which was read. Precious reminiscences of other happy birthdays were given by the "dear Mother" and so she came to the open door of a new year on life's journey.

Those enjoying the evening with Mrs. Kellogg were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kellogg and Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Kellogg, and her daughter, Miss Rosaline Kellogg, Mrs.
Elsibel Kellogg and Wilbur Dr.
and Mrs. W. H. McPeak and Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Tibball.

Merry-Go-Round Club
Has Jolly Meeting

The Merry-Go-Round club, as its name implies, always has a good time at its gatherings, and the one held on Friday last at the home of Mrs. I. D. Wallingford, 1521
North Broadway, was no exception to the rule.

Mrs. Wallingford used a dainty decorative scheme of yellow and white waxen hyacinths and tulips combined with cool-leaved ferns.

The afternoon hours were happily whiled away with needlework, social chat and "listening-in" on the radio programs, until the hospitable hostess served delectable refreshments to the following guests: Meses. J. O. Pylex and W.
J. Lewis of Smelter; Alva Nowotny, John Kettler, J. G. Sutherland, R. A. Kloess, Charles Cogan of Tustin, Thomas Hasler of Anaheim and Miss Henrietta Bolling, who will be hostess to the club in two weeks.

Ebell Club

The land of dykes, windmills and wooden shoes offered many interesting features for the program presented to members of the Fourth Travel section on Thursday afternoon last.

The papers read by Mrs. Floyd Spencer, Mrs. F. L. Andrews and Mrs. D. A. Harwood held a wealth of information about Holland and her people. The points were brought to mind that the Dutch man is thrifty, utilitarian, inenuous, peaceable and home loving, and were it not for his ingenuity this "hollow" or unstable land would some day disappear into the sea.

Owing to the fact that so many members have been absent from the last few meetings, it was decided to tax each absentee 25 cents unless a good excuse is offered.

The February meeting embracing Switzerland will be held at the home of Mrs. F. L. Andrews, on South Ross street.

Innominada Club

The Innominada club was very pleasantly entertained on Friday afternoon last at the home of George Williamson, 1121 Cypress avenue, flowers of various kinds and graceful greenery being used artistically about the house.

The afternoon hours were happily whiled away with conversation and dainty needlework, together with a guessing game and a humorous reading by Mrs. W. S. Chandler entitled "A Carpenter's Bill."

An appetizing tray luncheon was served, dainty color scheme of pink and white being carried out.
The members present included
Meses. W. J. Leonard and J. P.
Shea, the latter being accepted into the club membership on Friday who assisted Mrs. Williams in entertaining. W. J. Leonard, George Williamson, C. T. Wells, W. S.
Chandler, J. H. Thompson, J. C.
Clark, M. C. Williams, L. D. Annis and Harvey Riggie. Guests of the club included Mrs. Howard Burton and Miss Jennie Burton.

Daisy Austin Marsden Gives a Brilliant
Evening Recital

Daisy Austin Marsden (Mrs. F.
A. Marsden), mezzo soprano, assisted by William Tyroler, pianist, presented a most artistic and thoroughly enjoyable program at the Ebell clubhouse, Thursday evening, January 22.

Mrs. Marsden's rich mezzo-soprano voice was never heard to better advantage than in the interesting and well balanced program presented. Her singing was characterized by beauty of tone, excellent diction, and a sense of dramatic values, which resulted in most effective interpretations.

She established herself with her audience in the opening number, "The Keys of Heaven," which was sung with poise and finish. Of equal interest was each number in this group. Responding graciously to an encore, Mrs.
Marsden sang "I Passed by Your Window" by Brahms.

In the aria "Printemps qui Commence" from Samson and Dallia, Mrs. Marsden displayed to best advantage the smooth flowing quality of her voice, and the richness of the lower register. Her phrasing and French diction are also to be commended.

In the group of American songs, "Dawn in the Desert" deserves special mention for the fine atmosphere created throughout, and the effective climax, one of the most beautiful bits of the evening was "A Memory," by Ganz, which was sung with true artistry, and which was in marked contrast to the two preceding numbers closing this group.

Mrs. Marsden added pleasure to her last group by giving her audience the English translation of the first three numbers. These were sung with vivacity and abandon and a fine sense for the spirit of these quaint folk songs. The closing number,
"My Lover He Comes on the Skee," sung with irresistible rhythm and dash, was a fitting close. To an audience which showed keen appreciation Mrs.
Marsden generously responded with "Habenera" from Carmen.

Mr. Tyroler not only contributed most excellent accompaniments, but appeared in two groups of piano numbers. His first number "Love Song" and "Fine Music" from the Valkyries was a most brilliant and satisfying performance. Big climaxes, technical perfection, and rhythmic force, are characteristics of his playing. He responded with an encore.

The second group consisted of two numbers "Farewell" (Schubert-Liszt), and "Petite Waltz," two finely contrasted compositions, the latter with a fascinating swing, which brought insist-ent demand for an encore.

The complete program follows:

SCHOOL NEWS

John Muir

The sixth graders are giving a play, "Cinderella." The proceeds are going to pay the expenses for the little paper, John Muir Bulletin, which the sixth graders issue once a month.

In hygiene, the pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades have made posters emphasizing health habits. Next week they will compose health rhymes.

On Tuesday, the indoor team of the John Muir school played the last game of the semester with the St. Joseph's team. The game was an exciting one, resulting in a 31-to-20 victory for John Muir. This was the last interschool game for two of our boys, Domingo Sanchez and Hideo Hishashi, who are to enter junior high in February.

In the music memory contest, John Muir school was glad to learn that our third grade had the highest record for the city third grades, and John Muir second grade won second place among the second grades of the city.

The pupils of the upper grades are busy studying for their music memory contest to be given next Tuesday. They are counting on enjoying the program of pieces which they know, that will be played by the high school orchestra at the high school auditorium Wednesday morning.

Last Wednesday morning there were 15 cars furnished by the parents to carry the primary children to a similar program at the high school auditorium.

One day last week Miss Linda Meuller took her little kindergarten people, with their musical instruments, to Orange to play before a group of people. The novelty of riding on a street car and then playing before a large audience, much appealed to the children.

The fourth grade team played the regular team Thursday. At the end of the period, the fourth graders were ahead.

The girls of the upper grades are taking a lively interest in indoor baseball.

Lincoln

The high sixth class has charge of the program for the meeting, January 29 at 7:30 p. m.

The children have prepared a play, "The Six Who Pass While The Lentils Boil", under the direction of Miss Ingham, assisted by Mrs. Estelle C. Becam.

The cast is as follows:
Prologue, Emmaleene Richards.
Device Bearers, Thelma Fitzsimmons, Catherine Vanderbruggen.

The Boy, William Beeman.
The Queen, Edwin Gilliland.
The Mime, Marion Brooks.
The Milkmaid, Isabel Jardine.
The Blind Man, Dewey Nichols.
The Ballad Singer, Preston Bradford.

The Dreadful Headman, Maynard Workman.
You (in the audience), Paul Jacques.

Butterfly, Beatrice Granas.
Under the direction of Miss Irvine the class will sing several musical numbers.

There will be a piano solo by John Hoy and a vocal solo by Edwin Gilliland. The children have worked hard and faithfully. We are expecting a large attendance. The mothers of the class will serve refreshments.

A vocal solo by Preston Bradford.
A violin solo by Emmaleene Gilliland.

Frances Willard

The Frances E. Willard P.T.A. will entertain the high 9th graders with a steak bake next Thursday afternoon. The pupils will meet in front of the school and machines will be provided for taking them to the picnic grounds.

Miss Edith Cheadle, teacher of English, has been absent from school during the past week on account of illness. Miss Nicholson has been taking her place.

Mrs. Stevens, who has spent many years in Jerusalem, spoke to the social science classes last Thursday morning. She told of many interesting customs about the Orient.

McKinley School

The McKinley Parent-Teachers' association met on Thursday afternoon, when the program opened with the singing of the P.T.A. song.

The second and third grades, under the direction of Miss Carroll and Miss Cleveland, gave an enjoyable program. Ruth Baker gave a piano number, Lorraine Wheeler, a dance, melody, Lantz played a violin solo, and the second and third grades had some number races. It was amazing and interesting to see with what rapidity and accuracy the children could do arithmetic, which took the form of races between the girls and the boys.

Mabel Foster Whitacre sang a clever Japanese love song, accompanied by Miss Frieberg.

Captain Raymond of the local fire department, gave an interesting and instructive talk on "Fire Prevention." He praised very highly the work that the schools were doing along this line. In his address he mentioned how the little things that we forget in our homes are liable to cause fires.

All were glad to hear the encouraging remarks from Mr. Cranston. In comparing old time education with that of today, he brought out that the fundamentals were emphasized more today than they used to be. In regard to the P.T.A., he urged the members to interest others so that the membership might be one hundred per cent.

During the regular business a very wonderful report was given from the emergency committee. During December and January, numerous things were given out, such as garments, shoes, furniture, wood, dishes, magazines, groceries and money to those in need.

For the membership drive each child who secured a member received a popcorn ball. The child from each room who brought the most members received a special treat of ice cream.

Thanks and appreciation were extended to all the mothers who were leaving at the end of the term.

Mrs. McGaffey, president of the Lowell P. T. A., extended greetings from their association.

The second and third grade mothers were hostesses and served appetizing refreshments during the social hour. The delicious coffee used was the Orange Blossom brand which was furnished through the courtesy of the Smart and Final company.

Spurgeon

John Estes proved very interesting when he spoke to the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grades at an Assembly Thursday morning, on the subject of Thrift.

Following are several of the pupils' reviews of his talk:

Thrift
Shall we make this a year of thrift?

Absolutely
Make a budget to keep within your means. Russia is the richest country in the world, yet the poorest. Switzerland is the poorest country in the world yet the richest.

Why? Because the Swiss people save and make the most of their natural resources. Russia has no idea of saving.

Get an insurance policy. Are we going to save every penny we get? Pennies make dollars and dollars enable us to own a home. Thrift is not only saving but the systematic spending of it.

Own a Home.
HARRY JAMES APPLING,
High Fifth Grade,
Spurgeon School.

Russia is the poorest country in the world, yet the richest in lands and natural resources. Switzerland is the richest in money yet the poorest in soil. Why? Because Switzerland is a thrifty country.

Make a budget, make a will, keep a savings account. Have life insurance. Thrift is spending, but spending wisely. Pennies make dollars, dollars add up to great savings. Be thrifty.

WILMER McLANE,
High Fifth Grade,
Spurgeon school.

An orchestra composed of William Friend, James Daneri and Ben Stanley, violinists; Albert Greene, celloist; Phillip Gerra, cornetist; and Dale Rose, saxophonist, accompanied the upper grades while they sang "I Love You, California" at their opening exercises.

The fourth grade gave the California salute, and the fifth put on a thrift program, celebrating Thrift week.

The upper grade teachers of Spurgeon school were sorely defeated Thursday afternoon in baseball at the hands of the girls' baseball team. The game was full of fun and thrills, and proved very interesting to spectators as well as to the participants. Basketball will probably be the next sport taken up, and the teachers are hoping to turn their baseball defeat into victory.

"A penny saved is a penny earned."
By experience Franklin learned, And wrote it down in a proverb To be remembered by me and you.

"A penny saved is a penny earned."
Pennies are into dollars turned, If dollars are earned by honest thrift They can be the source of every gift.

"Waste not, want not," Franklin said, With every saved dollar you're one step ahead, He who his money does foolishly spend Is sure to be penniless and poor in the end.

A musical program representative of both junior highs will be given. Mr. Kellogg and Mr. Nelson, will present the graduation classes and J. A. Cranston, the city superintendent of schools, who will present the diplomas to the class, hoped that a large number of parents and their friends of the schools will attend the exercise.

A Relief Map
If you were in an aeroplane about three times as high as Mt. Baldy, looking down on the earth, with a telescope, you could see such a sight as the Julia C. Lathrop school has in the rotunda.

One can see as far east as Redland as far south as the ocean and its rugged surf with white caps. To the northwest, one could see Los Angeles, Burbank, Glendale, Pasadena, and other cities. Old Baldy is the highest peak to the north, which is covered with snow. Santa Ana lies in the center of the map.

This is a description of a model that was made by the J. T. Edwards studios of Glendale. The relief map cost hundreds of dollars and was kindly loaned to the school by the Newport Chamber of Commerce.

The map is of great interest to the pupils, especially the geography classes, because it shows the topography of the country around their home town.

SCHEDULE CHANGE.

In the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school, the faculty are arranging the schedules for the ninth grade, so the pupils may take art, sewing, cooking, shop, mechanical drawing and typing for two consecutive periods. There will be no outside preparation for these studies. The change is to get full credit for the subjects when the pupils go to high school. Under the present system, the high school has not been able to grant credit for the single period work done in these elective subjects.

BRANCH LIBRARY.

On February 1, Lathrop junior high will become a branch of the Santa Ana city library. Everybody holding a city card may take out a book. The number of books now in the library will be increased. A city librarian will be in charge during library hours.

—Edward Sugen, Reporter.

NEW GRADING SYSTEM.

We are going to stop giving marks on subjects for achievement alone. We are going to use the letters A B C D and Condition and Fail for achievement, with the subscript numbers, 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 for industry. We will give 1 to those pupils who are so unusual in their work that they are not satisfied to do only what they are told to do; 2 to those who fulfill all possible requirements conscientiously; 3 to the group who works conscientiously but needs extra help; 4 to those who are a burden to the teacher's mind; 5 means immediate investigation by the office and conference with the parents.

The 6B class of the Lathrop junior high school wish to express their appreciation to the faculty who have done their best to help the class while they were in the school.

APPLICATIONS FOR COUNTY CLUB READY

Application blanks for peace officers of Orange county who wish to join a benefit association being organized here, have been printed and officers throughout the county have been supplied, according to a statement made today by Herman Zabel, chief of the county bureau of identification, who has charge. Virtually all of the city police officers have signed membership blanks, and county officers are expected to follow within a few days.

There are approximately 90 officers in the county eligible for membership, it was pointed out, and as soon as all officers have had a chance to join the organization, a special meeting will be held, at which time association officers will be named and the new organization will be asked to adopt a set of by-laws, which have been drafted by a committee, composed of police chiefs of the county.

PRIESTS RAISE CATS
PARIS, Jan. 26.—Siamese cats, now the fashion for wealthy women, are bred in the royal palace of Siam and are attended by Buddhist priests.

BIRDS' EGG NECKLACES

PARIS, Jan. 26.—Necklaces made of birds' eggs are the latest novelty in the Parisian shops. The eggs are arranged for size and color, much like a string of pearls. The contents are blown out through tiny holes, and chemicals then blown in which make the shells firm and strong. The space in the shell is filled with a light cement and the outside is covered with a durable but transparent varnish. The eggs are strung with a small wire or cord drawn through the tiny holes, and the price for the finished novelty is extremely high.

Concerning Inheritance Taxes

Address Before the Santa Ana Lions Club by Ralph W. Smith, Inheritance Tax Attorney for California

Last November, to encourage residence and to stimulate capital to come to their state and develop its resources, the state of Florida enacted a constitutional amendment which expressly provided that it would not resort to inheritance tax or income tax for the purpose of raising revenue. This addition to the constitution of Florida was merely for the purpose of fooling the unknown, for it is certain that no man of affairs would move his residence to Florida, and change all of his investments to that state merely for the purpose of avoiding a state inheritance tax, or for the purpose of avoiding a state income tax, such as is chargeable by the state of New York and seven or eight other states.

Should a citizen be so easily lured and change his residence and his investments, he has no assurance that the state of Florida would not before his death change its mind and repeal this constitutional tax exemption en masse. Further, let us assume that this migratory individual who wishes to avoid the just burden of citizenship, and in response for the privilege of enjoying the foreign protection of his state should move his family and investments to Florida, a state which in a large part is in its virgin condition and greatly in need of roads, schools and many public improvements which are already constructed and established in California, could the state of Florida assure him cheaper taxes than the state of his present domicile? We believe not, and we are certain that the general tax burdens on property in Florida will continue to be greater than California burdens, while the privileges of rearing a family, and other public advantages, are negligible as compared with those of ours. No noticeable pilgrimage to Florida by the rich has as yet been recorded. The land of sand dunes, and at best a three-month-out-of-the-year climate, will entice no manufacturing industries from New England. The federal estate tax act penalizes Florida residents by reason of their constitutional amendment by placing a greater inheritance tax on Floridians than residents of any other states.

The man moving to Florida, at the time of his death his estate would be chargeable with inheritance tax on all property located in the state of Florida by all the states in the union where the property is situated having inheritance tax laws, with the exception of California. California, we contend, has taken the lead in avoiding the subjecting of assets of an estate to double and triple taxation, for we do not in this state subject personal chattels including bonds, foreign stocks, bank accounts, and the like, situated in this state, owned by a non-resident, irrespective of the place where such person may die, to California inheritance taxation.

We say to the world: "Come to California; bring with you your property, and should you continue a non-resident, and die while within the confines of our borders, your personal property will not be subject to California inheritance tax laws." Further, California does not tax bonds issued by California corporations and owned by non-resident decedents, we being among the few states that do not subject this class of property to inheritance tax. An examination of the inheritance tax act of California will disclose that its provisions encourage visitors to our state, and in the four years in which I have been inheritance tax attorney, I know not of a single instance where any person has failed to become a resident of California because of an oppressive inheritance tax act. I know of many instances, however, where persons have not changed their residence here because of heavy general property tax burdens in some instances in the southern part of our state going as high as six dollars on the hundred dollars of value.

It has been said that the realities of life are not measured by dollars and cents. No son was ever honored for what he received from his father through the medium of inheritance. Honor in these United States has ever been the reward for what one has done for what one has given. Andrew Carnegie so well said that the inheritance of the almighty dollar by a youth was an almighty curse.

You will be interested to know that at a meeting of the National Tax association, held in Minneapolis, Minn., in 1922, the inheritance tax committee of that association set about to draft a model inheritance tax law, the purpose being to harmonize and simplify the various inheritance tax statutes throughout the United States. After the forty-six inheritance tax statutes in effect in the forty-six states of the union, and the federal estate tax statute of the United States government were considered, the California inheritance tax act was adopted as the basic law to be used in framing this model inheritance tax law. Also, we of California have reason to be proud of our inheritance tax statute, for our act is used in the course of study of inheritance taxation by New York University.

One of the most vexing problems we have to consider in our department is that of classifying estates which contain both separate and community property. If property is acquired separately, property states and brought to California by a husband and wife, the widow, under the California law, is not allowed the community exemption in such property. Mr. Riley, state controller, has recommended that all widows in California, irrespective of the point of acquisition of property, if acquired under conditions which would make that property community property if acquired in California, should be entitled to the community property exemption. It seems that this is only fair.

Much difficulty has been encountered in placing the proper construction on section 1401 of the code of civil procedure, enacted by the last California legislature, which provides in substance that the wife may dispose of half of all community property by will in the event of the death of the husband, and no disposition is made of the community property, the survivor shall succeed thereto. As a will dates at death and not at the time it was made, the enactment of this community property statute of succession by the legislature has made it necessary for everyone who has heretofore made a will to examine that instrument to be certain that there is a specific disposition of property to a particular person.

For example, Mr. J. Frank Bowen, who died in Los Angeles county in August, 1923, after this amendment became effective, left a will which he had made several years before his death. In this will he directed that the residue of his estate be distributed according to the laws of the state of California. He left surviving a widow and children. Under the laws of the state of California at the time he made his will, the widow would have taken half of the estate and his children the other half, but his estate being community property and the statute being amended in 1923 to provide that where there was no specific disposition of the community property by will, the surviving spouse should succeed thereto. It seems certain that Mr. Bowen unknowingly disinherited his children. It is also necessary that all wills be examined in order that it may be certain that the residue of the estate is not left for distribution under the laws of succession for then no children (in the event of a surviving wife) would participate.

Only recently we had a most disturbing state of facts presented to us concerning this amendment. A resident of considerable means, knowing of a strained relation between three of his children and one of his children and his wife, called on his attorney, instructing him to prepare his will under the provisions of which he directed that half of his community estate be left to his wife, the balance apportioned equally among his children. Before the husband called at the office of the attorney to execute this will he was killed in an automobile accident. Therefore, we find the man dying intestate, and under the amendment just before noted, we find the wife taking all of his estate—the children nothing. In conclusion, we are certain that when one considers the many privileges enjoyed in California, looks about and sees the fully equipped and efficiently conducted school system which is maintained in part from moneys collected from inheritance tax, we

RESUME BUILDING ACTIVITY AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 26.

—Building activity here took another spurt today with issuance of a permit for $16,000 for a brick building which will house a motion picture show, with interior decorations and equipment amounting to more than $50,000.

It is expected that steps will be taken in the near future by Mrs. Evelyn Chaddock and Ben Denslow to start work on a few three-story hotel building. They have been engaged in hotel business for several years in Long Beach and San Diego. The hotel is to be situated on the corner of Walnut and Main streets.

Construction is expected to start soon on a new bakery building to be erected by John H. Eader, local baker. Plans for the building have not been approved, according to Eader, who said that as soon as plans are completed, construction would start.

Plans for a $1,000,000 horseshoe pier here are also being considered by a group of San Francisco men. Allen C. Rush, San Francisco engineer, has been in the city for several days endeavoring to secure approaches to the structure. The pier would be a pleasure pier of the latest type, 1000 feet between ends and extending 1600 feet into the ocean.

believe that those who inherit property, which in many instances they have played no part in accumulating, should pay their tax with a smile.

But let us not forget that in turning back the pages of history, and meditating over those who have passed beyond the veil and have joined the great cemetery of civilization, we are but mindful that memories are but shadows, and only one man in millions will be recalled after the lapse of centuries. On earth, time is figured in seconds—Over There in centuries. Here, our stay is short—There till eternity. The balm to our souls and the solace should be to live so that we may not be forgotten while yet alive. When the minutes of your life are read, do not have it recorded that errors and omissions were corrected in your last will and testament. Spread your sunshine; distribute your treasures. A cheery word, a bright smile, consideration and thoughtfulness, will not only radiate your own life, but will be to others as stray beams of sunshine breaking through the cold and gloom of winter, and to you a joyous heart will know no age.

An honest man's word

More than three hundred years ago, Miguel de Cervantes said: "An honest man's word is as good as his bond." Advertisers must be honest men, if they would remain advertisers. Their announcements are signed. They must tell the truth in their advertising. For their own protection, as well as yours.

What would it profit a man to advertise "Pure, virgin-wool suits," only to have you discover they were shoddy? You would soon separate the sheep from the cotton. And you would never deal with that man again. And, further, you would tell all your acquaintances what a skinflint he was.

As a matter of business, if not of personal principle, an advertiser must tell the truth in his signed announcements. That's what makes the advertising columns of this paper such reliable guides to honest merchandise. The printed announcements are bonds between you and the advertiser.

Read the advertisements. Read them regularly. To be informed on the newest and best in everything. To save hours of shopping. To make the family purse do a bigger, better job. To get goods of known quality at the most attractive price.

You would not plan a motor trip without first consulting road-maps and guide-books. Is it logical to plan a shopping trip without first consulting the advertisements? Read the advertisements. Then go to the stores with your mind more than half made up.

A signed advertisement is, in effect, a sealed bond between you and the advertiser.

NEW TOM MIX PICTURE OPENS RUN HERE

It has been noted by close observers of the film trade press that critics in various parts of the world are simultaneously giving cognizance to what is termed "the unprecedented rise to screen perfection" of Tom Mix, famous star. Each succeeding picture offered by this popular artist is accredited with being a marked improvement over its predecessor, and it is generally conceded that he has been making his continuously for several years. Now those who have seen this favorite of legions of movie fans in his latest film, "Teeth," now showing at the West End theater, are equivocal in declaring it to be the very best of his whole career, and this production is accorded the credit of setting a new high mark for this ever-progressing exponent of western drama and romance.

If Mix does make unusual strides forward and upward in his chosen profession, it is not to be considered at all accidental, according to William Fox, who brands his star as one of the most assiduous students of all the intricacies of picture-making of his extensive acquaintance. Mix is of the type of artist sufficiently lacking in ego to never be satisfied with his best efforts for the reason that he is always actuated by an earnest desire to do even better, it is stated by those who know him. The result shows itself in the form of an unflinching augmenting of the quality of each successive film in which he plays the stellar role.

"GOLD HEELS" HUMOROUS; REAL ENTERTAINMENT

If you don't see "Gold Heels," the new screen version of "Checkers," which opened last night at the Yost theater, you will miss an entertainment 100-to-1 shot. For humor, pathos and thrilling action, this picture equals anything that has been seen here recently.

Robert Agnew, who plays "Checkers" Campbell and rides Remorse to victory in a rip-roaring neck-and-neck finish, gives a fine performance. Agnew's personality is of the ingenious sort and it was really surprising to see him put so much pep and action into his work. Peggy Shaw as Pert Barlow also gives a splendid account of herself. She is pretty and fascinating, besides she can act. William Norton Bailey as the villain and Lucien Littlefield as a race-track tout also shine out. Others in the cast are Carl Stockdale, Fred Butler, James Douglas, Winifred Landis, Katherine Craig, Buck Black and Betty Hiss.

FILM STAR CLOSES ACT HERE TONIGHT

Miss Ruth Stonehouse, who closes her vaudeville engagement at the Yost theater here tonight, began her theatrical career with the old Essanay company in Chicago. Since then she has been starred in a great many motion pictures and her experience has extended to stock and the legitimate. Her present vaudeville act has been proclaimed by critics to be an absolute novelty. She possesses the art of mimicry to a high degree and her character impersonation of a girl in a cafeteria, and in a movie house displays exceptional ability. One feature of her act which audiences notice, is her absence from telling her audience what a hard struggle it was to become a star, etc. The appearance of Miss Stonehouse in vaudeville cannot be regarded as the cut and dried "personal appearance" as she is sufficiently versatile to please the public either from the screen or stage.

MAKE U. S. MOVIES ISSUE IN GERMANY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—American movies, which make up three-fourths of those shown in Germany, have brought German film producers, importers and distributors into a hot controversy, the department of commerce was advised by its Berlin representative.

Distributors sometimes require premiums of $5,000 to $8,000 to place American films on their lists, totally eliminating the profits of the importers, who are protesting vigorously.

The producers who make about 100 pictures a year are demanding that stricter import regulations be imposed to give them a larger share of the German business. About 300 American films are imported annually at present, and it is claimed that Germany could use 600 if the distributors' premiums were eliminated.

Exhibitors are dissatisfied because the present "contingent system" similar to the block-bookings practices used elsewhere require them to accept programs as a unit, instead of selecting their own features and showing individual programs.

A general meeting of the German film industry will be held soon to discuss a tentative program providing for a fixed ration between foreign and domestic pictures, to prevail for at least two years. The German government so far has not taken sides with any of the parties to the controversy.

jealousy of the sweetheart.

Main action of the picture takes place when a Pullman car, an innovation when upon the stage but not so new since the advent of motion pictures. However, development of possibilities in such limited space makes for a continuity of interest sometimes lacking in more diversified backgrounds.

Norma Shearer, as the unmarried bride, shows decided adaptability for farce comedies. In a role varying from amiability to most tempestuous of spittiness, she is found capable of running the gamut.

Conrad Nagel similarly illustrates his fitness for the light and airy. And this only for that portion of Nagel girl fans of gushing proclivities—all the way through the picture he wears a naval officer's uniform, which doesn't detract from his good looks one bit.

HUGHES MOVIE NOW SHOWING AT WALKER'S

By REVIEWER

Changing books and plays to meet film requirements, supposed or real, has been the matter of much debate.

Authors, seeing their original inspirations twisted into strange and sometimes fantastic shapes, have complained not infrequently. Some, in eminent strategic position, even have made filming of their work contingent upon verity.

This, then, being the contention, what would an impartial referee decide?

The answer is in Rupert Hughes' screen version of his stage success of a few years back, "Excuse me," which opened a four-days engagement at Walker's theater yesterday.

Major Hughes is a "triple-threat" man of the literary world. He writes books, plays and film plays. Besides which he recently became a director of production at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

As a consequence, when the major directs production of one of his own works, any debate between author and director must center in his own person. Consequently no finer example could be found of an impartial arbiter between authors' contentions and film magnates' demands.

He Compromised

In filming "Excuse Me," Hughes met the situation by compromise. Taken by and large, no damage or enhancement comes to the plot, and its evolution in the scenes which were of the play. This then, is Director Hughes' admission that authors are right in demanding accuracy in the transition of their stories.

However, not of the original play is the thrilling airplane ride, and leap from plane to train. Nor the burning bridge, which catapults the train into chaos far below. This is Author Hughes' admission that directors are right in interpolating "punch."

Considered apart from its predecessor, "Excuse Me" is an entertaining entertainment with no deeper mission than to amuse. No problem of domesticity or morality; no preaching of virtue or its kindred qualities. Just a vehicle to promote laughs—which it does.

Girl and a Man

There is a girl, Norma Shearer, and a man, Conrad Nagel, unmarried but believed by others to be married. Their resulting embarrassment furnishes much of the comedy. Also, there is former sweetheart, Renee Adoree, who complicates the play by arousing the

Scouts Will Give Another Benefit

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 26.—Boy Scouts were today preparing to give another entertainment, to raise funds to pay for a radio recently acquired by the troops for the cabin, following successful staging of the Dan Maxwells Scotch comedians at the grammar school auditorium Thursday and Friday nights. Considerable money was cleared from the affair and it will be used to help defray expenses of scouts who will take a trip to California Hot Springs this summer.

More than 50 Scouts recently combined their efforts to erect one of the largest aerial poles in the city at the scout cabin and radio music is enjoyed every evening by a large group of boys who attend the classes at the cabin.

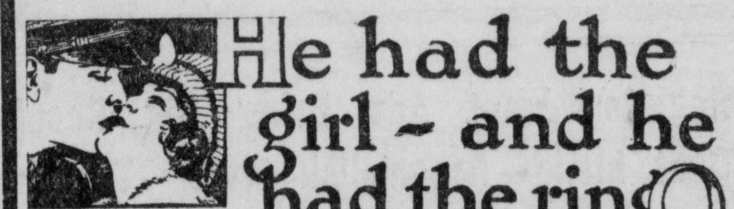

Class work is progressing, according to Scoutmaster C. E. Morris. Many Scouts will be ready for advancement soon.

CHILDREN OF MISSION TOWN AID FIGHT AGAINST SCOURGE

Youthful Enthusiasts at San Juan Capistrano Swell Funds

The children of San Juan Capistrano, where "the jewel of the missions" is located, sold $100 worth of the little double-barred Christmas seals during the recent campaign, the money to go towards the fight being made in Orange county against the dread white plague.

The Rev. Father St. John O'Sullivan, pastor at the mission, and one of the enthusiastic workers in the Orange County Tuberculosis association, says: "It may be less trouble to mail a check to headquarters for Christmas seals, but there is not so much enjoyment in it as buying from the children. At San Juan Capistrano, as on a number of the small districts, where there is no free delivery, the good old way of buying seals at retail is retained. The young seal merchant feels what his wares are sold to accomplish, and in this way the customer learns about the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. Both profit by the operation.

"Tuberculosis prevention is a matter of education," says the priest, "and the sale by the children at Christmas-time helps to spread the knowledge. The school children at the mission town received $100 worth of seals and sold everyone of them."

Mrs. May, the school principal, says that Randolph Williams, aged 11, son of Guy Williams, and nephew of W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank at Santa Ana, and Judge R. Y. Williams, superior judge of Department No. 2, and little Miss Eustolia Sto, aged 12, were the champion sellers, the former selling $8 worth and the latter $10. Mrs. May thinks that the children deserve a great deal of credit for their work.

TREES LOSE IN FIGHT AGAINST STREET LIGHTS

City Council Adopts Drastic Ruling In Regard to Ornamental Systems

Like liquor and gasoline, tall street trees and ornamental lighting systems will not mix, in the opinion of members of the Santa Ana city council.

This opinion has been forcefully expressed by an order for removal of all the street trees within the districts of the ornamental lighting systems on East and West Fourth streets.

Parkings on Fourth and Fifth streets virtually have been stripped of all trees and it is conceded that so far as making the lights stand out there has been a vast improvement in the appearance of the streets.

Many trees are yet to come out, as the work is not nearly completed on both streets. The council has been criticised by some property owners for what they term "ruthless destruction of the beauty of the streets—as beauty is exemplified by walnut and other park trees.

During a drive over the two streets, Councilmen Frank Purinton, who is in direct charge of the work through his position as street commissioner on the council, J. W. Tubbs, mayor, and C. H. Chapman, sewer and water commissioner, pointed out that there are on the streets a number of small walnut trees that do not at this time interfere in any way with the lighting system—either in threatening posts obscuring the system or interfering with the rays of light shed by the lamps—but that in time they will be obstructions and would have to be ordered out.

"Better to Move Now"
They took the position that it would be in the interest of the property owners to have the trees removed at this time so that owners could at once start, if they chose, the planting of other ornamental trees that do not grow tall and which do not have branches that spread out into the street.

"Leaving the trees in would only delay for two or three years their removal, and in the meantime much time will have been lost in the development of new growth in the parkings," commented Mayor Tubbs.

"In my opinion the street could best be further beautified by owners co-operating in the elimination of shrubs and planting the parking space to lawn. Pretty green parking, together with the beautiful ornamental standards and globes, would make the streets stand out and would make them attractive to persons traveling over the thoroughfares.

"It is true the council is being criticised for removal of the trees. The property owners paid for the installation of the system. They made the installation for the purpose of better illuminating and for ornamenting the streets. The general public is paying for current. Street lamps are maintained for the purpose of illuminating the streets. The streets cannot be properly illuminated when the rays of light are prevented by trees from spreading over the street.

Lights, Trees Do Not Mix

"Ornamental lights and trees do not mix any better than do liquor and gasoline—and the trees must come out. The present council will not tolerate lighting sys-

7261 VISITORS FROM EAST AND MIDDLE WEST HAND IN RETURN RAILWAY TICKETS; WILL MAKE THEIR HOMES IN CALIFORNIA

Figures Show Failure of Adverse Propaganda Programs

Eloquent testimony to the fact that California, notwithstanding the adverse propaganda broadcast in the middle west and eastern states, is still attracting homeseekers is the fact that no fewer than 7,261 persons, who came to the state over the Santa Fe lines on summer excursion tickets last year, handed in their return tickets and became residents of California, according to James B. Duffy, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe system.

Commenting on this influx of home-seekers, the Santa Fe official said:

"It means that no fewer than 7,261 people who came to California with an open mind and bent upon making a decision that meant everything to them, were sold and became citizens of the state."

"I know of nothing in recent years that does more to refute the propaganda broadcast in the east than this one instance. These people had a return ticket in their possession, and it was paid for. They did not find any adverse conditions here at all, but on the other hand were so delighted with the environment that they decided to cast their lot with the teeming thousands of happy, contented residents everywhere, and consequently turned into our office the unused portion of their tickets upon which they received a cash refund."

Duffy added that the coming summer doubtless would see many thousands more additions to the population of California after seeing this state and what it has to offer visitors, whether they may be looking for pleasure resorts, fine hotels, or interested in agricultural lands and products.

Incidentally, he stated that the Santa Fe is running its crack California Limited in three sections west daily, with four other fast transcontinental trains in handling the travel to California.

PHILATELIST PAYING FINE SEEKS SALES

Charles S. Thompson, who signs his name and adds a number of initials, much on the same order as a Harvard professor, and who lives in Los Angeles, with offices at 4112 Budlong avenue, is paying his $45 speeding fine to Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison in installments. Incidentally he has an eye for business and while paying his weekly payments, is trying to sell the justice some rare stamps.

Thompson is a stamp collector and a stamp auctioneer and is well known to stamp collectors here. He was arrested during the early days of the month on a charge of speeding 45 miles an hour and was taxed one dollar for every mile he was going at the time.

Following is a letter received by Justice Morrison yesterday from Thompson, in which he offers to let the justice in on something for $600 and in which he throws in a strain of humor regarding checks which are returned, marked Not Sufficient Funds. The letter is as follows:

Dear Justice Morrison—
I enclose another check for $10, this being the extent of business today. I hope things pick up a bit this week—if they do I will be rid of you. The check I gave you Saturday was not marked "Plaza Branch" but I have arranged with the main office to transfer it as I don't want it to go back to you marked N. S. F.—"No such feller," "nine score fingers" or "never speed forty-five."

I also include one of my catalogues and hope that your friend may be able to find something that he wants—$600 will buy one of each article offered, so tell him to send back the book and a cheque for that amount and I'll give him my speeder's tag as a premium.

With many thanks and best regards,

CHAS. S. THOMPSON,

A.B., H.M., F.S.M.

On Thompson's stationery he announces that he is a "life member of the American Philatelic Society."

William de Mille's one act satire, "Food," will be presented by a group of players directed by Ernest Crozier Phillips, director of the Community players. Two teams from the high schools will debate on whether Santa Ana should have a civic center.

The meeting will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Members are urged to bring a friend.

WIFE BOASTED OF CONQUESTS MATE CHARGES

Alleging his wife boasted of her conquests of a United States senator, the pastor of a Washington, D. C., church, and the president of a capital bank, Floren Perez, customs inspector, filed suit for divorce from Mrs. Jessie Elliott Perez, in Los Angeles, several days ago. Roland Thompson, Santa Ana attorney represents Perez.

The couple are residents of San Pedro, where Perez has his office but Mrs. Perez at present is said to be at Laguna Beach, "for her health."

Their difficulties started in Washington, where both were government employees, Perez said. The couple were married in Hollywood in December 1922 and separated a year ago, the complaint alleged.

Perez also alleges that his wife was not only divorced from a former husband at the time of their marriage and that she deceived him by stating she was 31 years old when she was really 39. Perez is 29.

She continually demanded to move from San Pedro, where he was stationed, to San Francisco, Seattle or back to Washington "where things are livelier," the complaint sets forth.

SAYS HUSBAND WAS 'PICKLED' FOR 3 YEARS

Harry Schaner was "pickled" during the last three years of his married life, his wife alleged, so no wonder he had what she called was a vinegar disposition.

Mrs. Martha Schaner's charges against her husband were contained in her suit for divorce, on file today in the superior court. The Schaners were married in 1914 in Michigan and separated in 1923. They have four children.

During the last three years, she declared, Schaner was constantly intoxicated. Since their separation, she alleged, he has neglected his family that the two youngest children no longer know or recognize him.

Attorneys Ames and McFadden, of Anaheim, represent Mrs. Schaner.

H. B. Woman Files Plea
Mrs. Ethel Knudson today has a divorce petition on file in the superior court against George T. Knudson, Huntington Beach oil worker, charging him with cruelty. Knudson, she alleged, mistreated her and her son by a former marriage. Attorney James L. Hansen represents Mrs. Knudson, who seeks a restraining order to prevent her husband from disposing of community property, valued at $1000.

She Worked: Hubby Played
While Mrs. Clara Finnegan was working in a candy store to earn her living, her husband was attending dances and staying out late at night, she declared in her suit for divorce, which was on file today in the superior court.

She married Calvin Finnegan, the defendant, in Tacoma in 1913 and they separated at Seattle in 1917, she stated. Attorneys Kaufman and Martell, of Santa Ana, represent the plaintiff.

ADD LOCAL MEN TO BANK'S BOARD

The advisory board of the Santa Ana branch of the Pacific-Southwest bank today had been strengthened by addition of J. Simon Fluor, president of the Fluor Construction company, and Richard A. They two local men were added to their board at the recent annual meeting of stockholders of the Pacific-Southwest banking group in Los Angeles. The board now consists of ten members including, Herman Fluor, Emison, A. E. Bennett, E. L. Crawford, A. G. Finley, O. A. Haley, A. J. McFadden, M. Nissen and E. E. Vincent.

Peter C. Wedell, owner of the house formerly occupied by a fashionable club in the North Main street district, today had launched a second effort to recover the premises from Mrs. Jack Sargent, the tenant and proprietress of the club.

Wedell also asked for $200 damages, alleging that rent for December and January has not been paid. The club, it is said has recently been closed.

A short time ago Wedell made a similar attempt to recover the property but failed.

NEW POLL TAX IMPRACTICAL SAYS SLEEPER FLAYING MOVE

County Assessor Expresses Belief Measure Will Not Become Law

BRANDS TAX UNJUST, UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Alleged Discriminatory Features Are Criticized By Official

Declaring his belief that the recently ratified initiative measure providing for payment of $5 annual poll tax by citizens who pay less than $5 in property tax is unconstitutional, unjust and impractical, County Assessor James Sleeper today predicted that it will never be enacted into law.

Furthermore, if the measure should be passed by the state legislature, and the duty of collecting the poll tax be placed upon the county assessors as seems to be the plan, the assessors would be unable to do it, Sleeper said. The poll tax would necessarily be ignored.

To begin," said Sleeper, "the proposal is unconstitutional because it discriminates. It collects the tax from a certain class. Also it is unjust. One man may be paying $5 in property taxes and he is exempt from the poll tax. His neighbor may be paying $4.90 in property taxes, but he must pay an additional $5 poll tax. What is fair about that?"

Sleeper pointed out that collection of the annual poll tax could not be started until within a few days of the close of the year, thus offering an impossible task. That, he said, is because payments of the first installment of property taxes are not completed until the early part of December, and it could not be known until then who should or should not pay a poll tax.

Hard to Collect
"Moreover," said Sleeper, "there would be no way then for the assessor to know who is or isn't supposed to pay the poll tax. Only the tax collector could tell that. And even the tax collector probably couldn't tell until he had checked up on all his mail, which piles up so during the final rush that it isn't cleared away for nearly two weeks after the delinquent date. That would leave about a week in which to collect all of the poll tax. A fine chance!"

Criticism of the poll tax law and proposed steps for its collection was heard also in another quarter today. Calling the proposal an "iniquitous head tax law" the Sacramento Bee editorially condemned the suggestion that all male residents, between 21 and 50 years of age, be compelled to register for poll tax purposes, under penalty of fine or imprisonment for failure.

Under the caption "Doing for a bad cause something wrong for good," the Bee editorial says:

Not Fair to the Railroads

Santa Fe Says Gooding Bill, in Congress, would impair railroads Pacific Coast traffic—adversely affecting merchants, farmers, manufacturers and others in Western States

The Gooding bill, now before Congress, would greatly divert traffic to the Atlantic Seaboard from the Middle West. It would thus retard the development of the Middle West and its railroads by preventing competition for Pacific Coast business with the Atlantic Seaboard and the steamship lines.

Unregulated canal competition has already taken from the Middle West much business, which can be regained by this territory only if the railroads are allowed to make rates to compete with the canal.

The Central States and their railroads have enjoyed a share in this Pacific Coast business from the beginning of the operation of transcontinental lines, and this tonnage was a large factor justifying their being built. Under the present law the Interstate Commerce Commission is authorized to permit the railroads to equalize canal rates, and application for this is pending. Until 1918 the railroads had this permission. Then, due to the war, canal competition ceased and the Commission withdrew the permission. Now the ships are back in greater numbers than ever and have taken practically all competitive traffic, while the railroads have lacked the permission to equalize rates.

The Gooding bill, which has passed the Senate and is being considered by the House, would withdraw from the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to grant any such permission. It will not help intermountain states, because steamship rates between the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts will continue lower than those of the railroads; and it will not add to the Coast competition of intermountain distributors for the railroads to handle a part of the business.

This westbound business on which the railroads desire to compete comprises highly manufactured articles moving in great volume, made both in the Atlantic States and in the Central and Middle Western States and sold on the Pacific Coast. It now moves largely via the canal. The Atlantic Seaboard pays only the low canal rates. The Middle West producer must pay either the additional rail charge to the Atlantic Coast or the charge for direct shipment by rail. If the railroads are allowed to compete, not only will the Middle West producer be enabled to compete on more even terms (which of itself will promote the development of the Central States), but also the railroads will be able to fill out their trains better, to develop their facilities, employ more men and purchase more supplies—all to the advantage of this great Western territory.

The Western railroads feel that the Gooding bill would deprive them of needed business without doing anybody any good, except owners of steamship lines operating through the canal; also that it would take away traffic in which they have participated under the Interstate Commerce Commission's authority since its creation in 1887. It seems most unfair to change the law at this time, in view of all these conditions.

When the Gooding bill was before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, the Interstate Commerce Commission, with but one of its eleven members dissenting, sent the Committee an urgent letter opposing the bill. It summed up the matter most clearly with a concluding statement, showing that the interests of the Central West are involved quite as seriously as ours, as follows:

"The effect of such a provision upon commerce, industry and agriculture, would be revolutionary, and in many cases disastrous to carriers, shippers and communities."

Pink sweet peas and the soft glow of candles, whose receptacles were tied with fluffy tulle, formed the beautiful table decorations for the delightfully pleasant luncheon for the members of the Third Travel section of Ebbl at the hospitable home of Mrs. A. M. Gardner on East Washington avenue on Friday last. Mrs. Percy Thelander and Mrs. H. Krahling were Mrs. Gardner's assistants in the discharge of her hostess duties.

In the afternoon the members were highly interested in a talk given by Dr. Mary E. Wright, who has just returned from the Canal Zone, where she had been since last August visiting her son. She described many of the beauty points of the country visited by her.

Financial and Market News

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Today's market witnessed the irregularity which has been a familiar feature of the opening weeks of the week since the market entered the current period. But favorable comment was occasioned by the fact that the reactionary tendency was less pronounced than on the other recent Mondays, save in special stocks.

One exception was American Woolen, which suffered another sharp drop in anticipation of a substantial reduction of profits in the 1924 report. In the stocks which have led the successive stages of the present upward movement impressive support was encountered well above the lows established in last week's report.

Early preparations for the end of the month payments were visible for the calling of about $20,000,000 in loans and a firming up in call money to 4 1/2 per cent.

The market closed lower. Closing prices included:

U. S. Steel, 135 1/2, off 1/4; Baldwin, 131 1/2, off 1/4; Studebaker, 42 1/2, off 1/4; American Can, 163 1/2, off 1/4; American Woolen, 39 1/2, off 1/4; American Express, 114 1/2, off 1/4; Texas Company, 45 1/2, up 1/4; Cast Iron Pipe, 17 1/2, off 1/4; General Electric, 17 1/2, off 1/4; Radio, 66 1/2, off 1/4; Pan American, 68 1/2, up 1/4; P. CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—The close in grain futures today was lower with corn leading in the downturn. Selling in wheat was inspired by extreme weakness in the cash situation and a smaller decrease in the visible supply than hie tract expected.

Corn's pronounced dip followed a 3 to 4 cent break in cash premiums. Oats sold off with corn, increased supplies and heavier world's stocks. Provisions weakened late, with hogs and grains.

TREES LOSE FIGHT WITH STREET LIGHTS

Street trees on North Main are to come out—every tree that interferes with the efficiency of the system or threatens damage to a standard or globe. Purinton and others were out on the street today making investigations to determine and mark the trees that must be sacrificed.

According to Purinton, it is his intention to force the repairing of many sections of sidewalk on Fourth and Fifth streets. The walks have been badly broken, raised by roots of trees growing in the parkings. The walks are dangerous to pedestrians and should be repaired without delay in the opinion of the street commissioner.

OIL NOW GOING TO WASTE WILL SOON BE SAVED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 26.—That thousands of barrels of oil will be saved every year from emulsion which goes to waste, is the declaration of engineers of the Standard Oil company who will start construction work immediately on a dehydrating plant east of town where emulsion oil, from oil wells under the control of the Standard company, will be separated from the water.

Much of this oil is now allowed to escape and often finds its way to the beach. It is pointed out, and the step to salvage the waste oil from the emulsion is hailed with joy by citizens here, who hope that less oil will be found on the beach in the future.

Recent experiments by the Standard Oil company have convinced that concern of the money-saving value of the project and, according to reports, the dehydrating plant will be built in units so that additions may be made at any time to care for additional emulsion.

The plant will cover considerable territory. The emulsion oil and water will be pumped into large sumps at the plant from lines connecting the plant with all portions of the oil field. The oil will then be pumped off the top of the water, and the water run through a process which will remove all other oil from it. The cost of the dehydrating plant is not known.

MUTUAL WILL ERECT PLANT IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, Jan. 26.—S. E. Merchant, secretary-manager of the Fullerton Mutual Orange association, has announced that, following a special meeting with railway officials, final steps have been taken for building of one of the most modern packing houses in Fullerton, with the Santa Fe railway having charge of the construction work.

The new orange house will be located immediately west of the Orangethorpe citrus house, on West Walnut avenue, and will be 90 by 140 feet. The building will be of brick and will contain the most modern equipment.

Work will start within one week and will be rushed as rapidly as possible, in order to have the packing house completed by May 1. Construction of the new packing house was authorized by the board of directors of the orange association following their annual meeting and negotiations were started with railroad officials for the site of the building.

The present building of the association, it was announced, although built on the railroad property, is owned by the growers and probably will be purchased by the railroad.

HARBOR TRADE OFFICERS FOR YEAR ELECTED

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 26.—With practically no change, the board of directors of the Orange county harbor chamber of commerce, has chosen officers for the ensuing year. Dr. C. G. Huston of Costa Mesa, is president.

Following the resignation as director of Joseph Beck, at present clerk of the state senate, and Balboa Island realtor, Dr. Conrad Richter, Newport Beach city trustee, was unanimously elected in his stead. The addition of Dr. Richter to the board, it is pointed out, brings knowledge of harbor matters, as the doctor has visited practically every port in the world, while his grasp of civic affairs, due to his many years as a public official, will be of much aid.

Other officers are: First vice-president, Lew H. Wallace; second vice-president, J. P. Greeley; third vice-president, J. L. Ainsworth; treasurer, Lew H. Wallace; secretary, Harry Welch; chairman public utilities committee, H. C. Sloan; chairman industries committee, George T. Peabody; chairman harbor committee, Lew H. Wallace; chairman entertainment committee, A. H. Wilson; chairman publicity committee, S. A. Meyer; chairman roads committee, W. C. Spencer. At the same time Mr. Spencer was elected a director at large, in recognition of his work on harbor development. Other committee heads will be appointed later.

A vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Huston for his devotion to harbor work. The newly-elected directors, W. W. Crosier and Benjamin Funchion, took office.

TUSTIN P. T. A. MEETS.

TUSTIN, Jan. 26.—An interesting meeting of the Tustin high school P. T. A. was held at the music room of the high school last week. Special music and an interesting program had been prepared. Everybody was welcome.

Dr. C. A. Custer, dentist, now located Walker's theater building.

Commission On County Harbor Meets Tuesday

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 26.—The next meeting of the Orange county harbor commission will be held at Newport Beach Tuesday. The Hon. N. T. Edwards, member of the California highway commission; Gen. Lansing H. Beach, well-known harbor engineer, who is now preparing a report on Newport bay; a representative official of the Auto Club of Southern California; J. A. McBride, county highway engineer, and George P. Wilson, mayor of Newport Beach, will meet with the commission at 11 o'clock to examine highway connections in the vicinity of Newport bay.

General Beach has suggested the conference and it will be held on the ground so that physical inspection of the various roads can be made.

The harbor commission, under H. A. Lake, chairman, will hold its regular business session in the afternoon.

Report Progress In Water Plans

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 26.—At a meeting of the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce, H. G. Heisler, president of the chamber and chairman of the proposed water district committee, reported progress. He said that the petitions were being prepared and that they would be ready for circulation within a week or 10 days.

Indications point to early results and this means a new and inexhaustible supply for Laguna Beach. It is estimated that this district will include 2000 acres along the coast and will extend as far south as Coast Royal, south of Aliso canyon, and will take in all the ocean frontage as far north as Balboa.

SEND BODY TO COLORADO

ANAHEIM, Jan. 26.—Body of Miss Mary Dequelle, who died Friday, has been sent to her former home in Montrose, Colo. for burial. Miss Dequelle was an employee of the telephone office here for almost a year. While in Anaheim, she had made her home with her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Dale, 527 East Cypress street.

OFFER BALBOA AS LOCATION FOR SCHOOLS

BALBOA, Jan. 26.—Definite steps will be taken to bring to Balboa private schools for both boys and girls, according to a decision reached by the Balboa Chamber of Commerce directors. L. W. Briggs, chairman of the committee in charge of the plans, stated that the chamber was chiefly interested in bringing to Balboa the smaller and more specialized type of school such as a boys' military school or a girls' seminary.

The Balboa chamber has been approached many times in the past two years by promoters of hotels, apartment houses and clubs, asking for community support of the projects. The chamber so far has been conservative in its consideration of all such suggestions. It has always felt that the natural assets of Balboa as a watering place, plus the usual city improvements, would naturally in time attract the right kind of investment in hotels and apartment houses.

In line with its policy that the growth of people was more important than the growth of things, the Balboa chamber finally settled upon the school boy and girl and their welfare. Balboa and its entire surrounding community, especially the Palisades, is regarded as ideal for the establishment of schools of this character.

Mr. Briggs said that the committee would first make a direct contact with private schools desiring new locations and their representatives would be brought here in order that they might view the town and surroundings.

WILLIAM HUPP DIES

ANAHEIM, Jan. 26.—William Hupp, aged 81, a native of Germany, died Saturday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Jacoby, 924 East Center street. He is survived by two sons, Chris, of Jonesboro, Ind. and Charles, of Logansport, Ind., and two daughters, Mrs. Charles Jacoby and Mrs. Frank Gross, both of Anaheim. He was a member of the German Lutheran church. The body was sent to Logansport, where the funeral will be held.

Oil Restriction Issue Is Dormant

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 26.—Twenty-five more signatures are necessary to carry the measure for calling a special election to determine whether or not oil drilling restrictions from Eighteenth to Twenty-third street, are to be lifted.

The matter at the present time is lying dormant. Little is being done pending outcome of a $1,000,000 pier issue here proposed by a San Francisco company.

The matter of raising restrictions was taken up at a recent meeting of the chamber of commerce and was referred to the legislative committee.

Beach Rotarians Are Told of Thrift

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 26.—Short talks, a thrift sketch by Santa Ana people, and music filled the program for the regular meeting of the Rotary club here Friday noon. W. D. Young and John I. Hinkle were chairmen for the day.

Hinkle gave the Rotarians a short address on thrift. His talk was followed by a skit illustrating the point of thrift. R. G. Cartwright, Guy Gilbert and Mrs. Morton and two children gave the sketch.

Attendance was not large, as several members, including M. G. Jones, president of the club, were in Los Angeles to hear an address by H. Hill, international president of Rotary.

Band Rehearsals Will Start Soon

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 26.—Band rehearsals will start here soon, it is reported by Will H. Gallienne, manager and soloist for the Huntington Beach Municipal band.

Efforts are being made to secure one of the best directors in Southern California to direct the band.

Gus Hushman, manager of the band for several years, will not be with the band this year, as he is now manager of the Anaheim band.

LAGUNA BACKS FULLERTON AS COLLEGE SITE

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 26.—Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce, at its regular meeting Wednesday evening, endorsed action of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce in offering a site for the Southern Branch of the University of California. N. E. West and J. W. Skidmore were appointed a committee to draft a resolution formally approving action taken by Fullerton. The committee presented the following resolution that was approved by the board of directors and ordered forwarded to Fullerton:

"Whereas, the city of Fullerton, Orange county, Calif., has made a generous, well-located site for the Southern Branch of the University of California, we believe that this location is by nature, geography and climate especially suited for such purpose.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce, in formal session, endorse such site offer with our full approval and co-operation and commend Fullerton for her generous spirit."

Policy and project committee of last year has been retained and consists of J. W. Skidmore, A. B. Marshall, J. S. Thurston and George S. McCue.

President Heisler reported on progress of the building committee and said Wallace Neff of Riverside, who was to have made plans for the building has been taken ill and will not be able to carry out the plans. Mr. Heisler then advised the members of the chamber to instruct the committee to proceed with its plans.

An auditing committee was appointed and comprises Frank W. Cuprien, Thomas Cummings and George H. Johnston.

The board of directors decided on revision of the by-laws, and President Heisler appointed A. B. Marshall, E. M. DeAhna, Roy W. Peacock, N. E. West and John Jehie a committee on revision of by-laws.

E. M. DeAhna, Frank W. Cuprien and N. E. West were appointed on the publicity committee.

A finance and membership committee was appointed and the town divided into three districts. Frank W. Cuprien and Thomas Cummings were appointed to canvass Arch Beach district; J. J. Power, A. B. Marshall and J. W. Skidmore to take care of the business of central district, and H. H. Henshaw and George S. Johnston to care for the Laguna Cliffs and McKnight's Addition district. The membership drive is to be launched immediately.

It was decided that all chamber of commerce meetings be open to the public, except every fourth meeting, which would be purely executive, at which only members of the board of directors would be present.

J. W. Skidmore and H. G. Heisler were asked to represent the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce at all meetings of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce.

HEALTH TALK SCHEDULED.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 26.—J. E. Craddock, health lecturer, of Denver, Colo., will deliver an address at the Huntington Inn Tuesday evening.

Grandmother Knew

There was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsils, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION OF TIME OF PROVING WILL, ETC.

No. 18091

In the Superior Court of the County of Orange, State of California.

In the Matter of the Estate of Joseph Allen Buckmaster, also known as J. A. Buckmaster, also known as

TAKE UP! BAD CHECK MAN'S NABBED, FREED

W. I. Nichols, who courted disaster by giving no-fund checks and then "taking them up" before the holder presented them at the bank, and who finally did get into trouble by being arrested and jailed on a charge of being drunk, before he could "take up" a certain check he had issued, was free today, but the check charge was hanging over him as a guarantee of his future good behavior.

Tony Barrios, local cafe man, who held the check issued by Nichols, did not appear to testify when the latter's case came before Justice Morrison. But Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mosley, after discussing the case with the local police, decided not to dismiss the case. At his request, Justice Morrison dropped the case from the court calendar for the present.

"Nichols' future actions will determine our course in this case," said the prosecutor. "If he violates any more laws we will have this case heard and see that the witnesses do come into court."

Attorneys Franklin West and Milton Harvey, representing Nichols, contended that, under the law, Nichols' check transactions did not constitute an offense. The fact that he had, twice before, given Barrios checks, on the understanding that they were to be held until Nichols himself "took them up," gave the checks the status of promissory notes, the attorneys said.

Court records today show dismissal of a petit larceny charge against Oliver Wendell Holmes, Santa Ana garage man, who was accused of stealing parts off an automobile that was left with him for repairs.

The charge was the result of a misunderstanding. Investigation revealed, Eugene Bassett, had left his car with Holmes, who sent different parts of the machine to other mechanics for the necessary work. Meanwhile, being called away from Santa Ana before the job was completed, he turned it over to another mechanic. The latter, however, all the parts he could find, but there were one or two portions of the machine that he could not locate. Suspicion fell upon Holmes.

But when Holmes was taken into custody he explained the situation and located the missing parts. The charge was then dismissed.
